Robert L. Johnson

Owner and President

Robert L. Johnson made history as the first African-American to become the majority owner of a professional sports organization when the NBA Board of Governors granted him the expansion Charlotte NBA franchise on January 10, 2003. Johnson also immediately assumed ownership of the WNBA's Charlotte Sting, who were four months away from tipping off their seventh season.

Dubbed by Johnson as his "first-born", the Sting played in front of a sold out crowd in their 2003 home opener and finished the season by advancing to the playoffs for the sixth time in team history. Meanwhile, the NBA expansion team was busy assuming an identity and introduced their name, colors and logo to the public in Uptown Charlotte on June 11, 2003. The Bobcats begin play in the fall of 2004.

Johnson, founder and chief executive officer of Black Entertainment Television (BET), made an impact in the Charlotte community right away, donating $1 million toward the West Boulevard YMCA. Sports Illustrated honored him as the most influential minority figure in sports and he was named the 2003 Newsmaker of the Year by the Charlotte Post. Sporting News tabbed him the second-most powerful owner in sports for 2003.

Johnson has since announced an annual horse show competition, the Charlotte Jumper Classic, and a new television network called the Carolinas Sports Entertainment Network (C-SET), which will debut in October of 2004 and broadcast Bobcats and Sting games as well as local collegiate, scholastic and youth sports programming.

Starting from scratch is not new for Johnson, having founded Black Entertainment Television in 1980 as a cable television network geared to serve the information and entertainment needs of African-Americans. The company has grown to become the leading African American-operated media and entertainment company in the United States, reaching 75 million homes.

In 2000, Johnson sold BET to Viacom, Inc for approximately $3 billion. Following the sale of BET, Johnson formed the RLJ Companies where he owns or holds interest in companies operating in the hospitality/restaurant, real estate, fast food, gaming and entertainment/media industries.

Very active in the business community, Johnson serves on the board of directors for US Airways, Hilton Hotels Corporation, General Mills, United Negro College Fund, National Cable Television Association and the American Film Institute. He is also a member of the Board of Governors for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and the Board of Trustees for the Brookings Institution.

Johnson is a graduate of the University of Illinois and holds a master's degree in International Affairs from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University. He maintains residences in Washington, D.C. and Charlotte and is the father of a daughter, Paige, and a son, Brett.

Ed Tapscott Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer

Ed Tapscott is in his second year as executive vice president and chief operating officer of the Charlotte Sting and Charlotte Bobcats. In this position, he oversees all business and basketball operations of both teams.

On January 6, 2003, Robert L. Johnson hired Tapscott as executive vice president and chief operating officer of RLJ Basketball. Tapscott began what was to be a blur of a year in overseeing the continued success of the Sting and the development of the expansion Bobcats, who will begin play in the fall of 2004.

Tapscott's first order of business for the Sting was to hire Trudi Lacey as head coach and Bernie Bickerstaff as general manager on February 13, 2003. Bickerstaff has since been named general manager and head coach of the Bobcats and Lacey has added general manager to her title.

Since that time, Tapscott has not only witnessed the success of the Sting on and off the court, but also has overseen the start up of the 30th NBA franchise, officially named the Bobcats in a celebration with fans in Uptown Charlotte on June 11, 2003. The Bobcats have compiled a front office staff, created a mascot, sold suites and season tickets, scouted the high school, college, NBA and international basketball scenes and started construction on the new Charlotte Arena, which will open in the fall of 2005.

Tapscott brings a wealth of experience to his position, having served in a variety of basketball roles for the past 25 years. He was vice president of player personnel and basketball operations and served briefly as interim president and general manager of the New York Knicks during the 1990's, when the team made two trips to the NBA Finals.

During his time with the Knicks, the team advanced to at least the second round of the playoffs every year. Tapscott was elevated to interim general manager in 1999, replacing Ernie Grunfeld.

Prior to joining the Sting and Bobcats organization, he worked as an on-air analyst for Fox Sports and Comcast Sports Net in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area. In addition, Tapscott has worked as a front office consultant to the Milwaukee Bucks and Phoenix Suns. He was also a player agent for Advantage International in Washington. From 1982 to 1990, Tapscott was head coach of American University's men's basketball team in Washington, where he led the team to more victories than any other coach in the program's history.

Tapscott completed his undergraduate and graduate studies at Tufts University, where he also played basketball for Coach Tom Penders. Tapscott completed his legal education at the Washington College of Law at American University.

A native of Washington, D.C., Tapscott and his wife, Janis Thomas, have one daughter named Logan.

Steve Swetoha

Senior Vice President of Business Operations

Vice President of Ticket Sales and Service

Steve Swetoha enters his second season as senior vice president of business operations for the Charlotte Sting. In his role with the Sting, Swetoha oversees all business aspects of running the team. In addition, Swetoha serves as the vice president of ticket sales and service for the Charlotte Bobcats.

Owning more than 16 years of experience in the sports industry, Swetoha most recently worked as a sales consultant to the NBA and WNBA where he was responsible for training various teams. He worked in Charlotte for the 2002 WNBA season as a sales consultant to the Sting. He also served as the national director of ticket sales for Dover Motorsports. Prior to this work, Swetoha served as the director of ticket sales for the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars, where he was responsible for the sales and marketing of season and group tickets, club seats, suite sales, ticket operations and customer service.

Swetoha began his career as director of telemarketing for the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins and went on to serve as the vice president of ticket sales and operations for the IHL's Cleveland Lumberjacks and director of ticket sales for RDV Sports entities, which included the NBA's Orlando Magic, WNBA's Orlando Miracle and IHL's Orlando Solar Bears.

A native of Pittsburgh, Swetoha graduated from Robert Morris University with a bachelor of science degree in sport management and marketing in 1986. He and his wife, Michelle, live in Charlotte with their son, Matthew.

Kelly Chopus

Vice President of Business Operations

Kelly Chopus begins her first season as vice president of business operations of the Charlotte Sting, where she will oversee the day-to-day business responsibilities of running the team. Chopus previously served as the director of ticket sales during the 2003 season and as a WNBA ticket sales consultant in Charlotte during the 2002 season.

Prior to joining the Sting, Chopus served as an associate producer for the Salt Lake Organizing Committee, where she oversaw all event management at the Park City venue of the 2002 Winter Olympics. A resident of Utah for 14 years, Chopus spent one season as vice president of ticket sales for the WNBA's Utah Starzz, served three years as director of the U.S. Ski Team Foundation and worked three years as director of development for the Utah AIDS Foundation.

A graduate of Colby College, Chopus relocated to Charlotte this past year with her husband, Paul, and their three children, Lily, Emma and Matthew.

Trudi Lacey

General Manager and Head Coach

On November 19, 2003, Trudi Lacey added the position of general manager of the Charlotte Sting to her role with the team. Lacey will now serve in the dual role of general manager and head coach for the franchise, and will be responsible for all basketball operations. Lacey posted a 18-16 record and reached the WNBA playoffs in her first year at the helm after being named as the team's head coach and assistant general manager on February 13, 2003 after two seasons as the Sting lead assistant.

During her time as an assistant, the Sting posted a 36-28 record, advancing to the WNBA playoffs each year and engineering one of the greatest in-season turnarounds in professional sports history in 2001. That year, Charlotte opened the season by going 1-10, only to close the campaign on a 17-4 run. They topped that regular-season finish by defeating the number one and two seeds in the Eastern Conference during the playoffs to reach the WNBA Finals.

Prior to joining the Sting coaching staff, Lacey was a member of the USA Basketball staff beginning in March 1997 as assistant director for women's programs. In that position, she assisted in the development, coordination and implementation of the USA Basketball women's programs including all women's trials, training camps and international competitions.

Lacey was involved with USA Basketball as a committee member, coach and player. From 1993-1996, she served on the USA Basketball Women's Player Selection Committee and was an assistant coach for the bronze-medal winning 1995 R. William Jones Cup and the 1994 Olympic Festival East teams.

As a player, Lacey competed on the 1978 USA Select Team that toured Asia, the 1981 silver-medal winning World University Games team, the 1982 USA National Team that won a gold medal in the Ferend Hepp Memorial Tournament in Hungary and the gold-medal winning 1983 USA World University Games Team.

Prior to joining the USA Basketball staff, Lacey worked coaching stints at the University of Maryland, the University of South Florida, NAIA Francis Marion College in South Carolina, Manhattan College (1981), James Madison (1982) and NC State (1983-84).

As a collegian at NC State, Lacey was a four-time All-AIAW Tournament choice. Twice named as NC State's team MVP, she is the only player in ACC history to earn first-team All-ACC honors four consecutive years.

During her four varsity seasons, Lacey helped the Wolfpack to a 105-30 overall record and recorded 1,957 points and 1,051 rebounds. Lacey journeyed overseas in 1984 and played professionally in Italy for two seasons (1985-87).

Cheryl Reeve

Assistant Coach

Cheryl Reeve returned to the Charlotte Sting on January 9, 2004 after spending one season with the now-defunct Cleveland Rockers. Reeve's return to Charlotte reunites her with general manager and head coach Trudi Lacey, both of whom served as assistant coaches on Anne Donovan's staff during the 2001 and 2002 seasons. Reeve will also be reacquainted with several players still on the Sting roster who competed on the 2001 Eastern Conference Championship Team.

Prior to her three seasons in the WNBA, Reeve served as head coach of the Indiana State Sycamores from 1995-99. She improved the team's record each season and led the team to its first postseason berth in 20 years following the 1998-99 campaign. Reeve also spent five seasons as an assistant coach at The George Washington University. The Colonials posted five 20-win seasons, captured three Atlantic 10 Conference Championships, and appeared in four NCAA Tournaments during Reeve's stint at GW.

As a player at LaSalle, Reeve led the nationally ranked Explorer team to a 25-5 record in 1987-88. She was named All-Metro Atlantic Conference and was an All

Big 5 selection as a senior. Reeve holds the school record for most games started (110) and ranks fourth on LaSalle's career assist leader board (420).

Reeve excelled athletically and academically at LaSalle, graduating with a degree in computer science/management information systems. A Rhodes Scholar nominee, Reeve received both a MAAC Scholar-Athlete Post Graduate Award and a NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1988. She went on to earn her master's degree in business administration from her alma mater while also serving two years as an assistant coach for the Explorers.

Fred Williams

Assistant Coach

A 20-year coaching veteran, Fred Williams was named as an assistant coach with the Charlotte Sting on March 26, 2003. He helped guide Trudi Lacey's 2003 team to a second place finish in the Eastern Conference.

Prior to joining the Sting, Williams spent four seasons with the WNBA's Utah Starzz, who have since relocated to San Antonio. He compiled a 36-37 record in 2+ years as head coach in Utah. In addition, he has served as a scout for the Utah Jazz.

Prior to his work in Utah, Williams served as the women's head coach at the University of Southern California from 1995-97. He guided the 1996-97 squad to a 20-9 record and a trip to the NCAA tournament where they advanced to the second round. Williams also served 10 seasons as an assistant coach at USC, including two as associate head coach during Cheryl Miller's tenure. Coaching players such as Cynthia Cooper, Lisa Leslie, and Tina Thompson, Williams helped guide USC to the 1984 NCAA Championship, two NCAA Championship appearances, five Pacific-10 Conference titles and nine NCAA tournament appearances.

A 1980 graduate of Boise State University, Williams possesses a wide array of talents. Along with his coaching career, he has worked as a radio and television analyst, a public speaker, musical performer and producer. Williams has produced a CD called Freddy Bass, Let's Ride.

LaTonya Holley Athletic Trainer

LaTonya Holley enters her second season as head athletic trainer for the Charlotte Sting. No stranger to the program, Holley returned to the Sting in 2003 after spending the previous three summers as a volunteer trainer with the Sting.

During the WNBA offseason, Holley serves as an athletic trainer at Temple University where she works with the men's and women's soccer teams as well as Dawn Staley and the women's basketball team.

Prior to her work at Temple, Holley was an assistant athletic trainer at Winthrop University.

A native of Rock Hill, South Carolina, Holley earned her B.A. degree in sports medicine from St. Andrew's Presbyterian College, where she played softball and basketball before graduating in 1997. She also earned an M.A in health and physical education from Winthrop in 1999.

Jodi Hopkins Strength and Conditioning Coach

Jodi Hopkins begins her second year as the Sting's strength and conditioning coach. Hopkins is in charge of developing and overseeing the player's strength and conditioning programs.

Prior to joining the Sting, Hopkins worked at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill for six years. Most recently, she served as the head strength coach for the women's basketball team, overseeing a year-round training program. Hopkins also worked closely with Olympic sport programs of field hockey, women's golf, gymnastics, women's lacrosse, softball, tennis and track. Additionally, she assisted with the strength and conditioning program for the football team during the 1996-2000 season.

Hopkins began her career at Ohio University and as an intern with the Charlotte Sting during the 2001 Eastern Conference Championship Season.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Hopkins graduated from Ohio University in 1996 with a B.S. in sports psychology. She is certified by the International Sports Science Association and the USA Weightlifting Club while also serving as a member of the National Strength Coaches Association and the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association.

Welcome to Charlotte!

The beautiful skyline of Charlotte leaves an impression that you will not soon forget. Not only is the city big on business, but it also known for its Southern hospitality and charm. With a population of 614,330 Charlotte is one of the most rapidly growing metropolitan areas and currently ranks as the nation's 21st- largest city.

Charlotte is also big on sports! In addition to the Sting, Charlotte is home to the NBA expansion Charlotte Bobcats and the NFC Champion Carolina Panthers. The region is a hotbed for NASCAR and boasts of Charlotte Knights AAA baseball, Charlotte Checkers ECHL hockey, Carolina Cobras arena football, Charlotte Eagles soccer, the Continental Tire Bowl and PGA's Wachovia Championship. In the fall of 2005, the new Charlotte Arena will open Uptown and house the Bobcats, Sting and many other events for all ages!

Charlotte is the center of the nation's fifth largest urban region. Charlotte serves as the subsidiary headquarters for many major national and international companies. During the past ten years, 8,928 new firms have invested more than $7.4 billion in new Charlotte facilities. In addition, more than 300 of the Fortune 500 businesses have an office in Charlotte. Over the past 10 years, nearly 9,000 new firms have opened in Charlotte creating 77,327 new jobs and investing $7.4 billion in new facilities.

The city is the second largest financial center in the United States – only New York City is bigger. Charlotte is the headquarters of the largest (Bank of America) and fourth-largest (First Union/Wachovia) bank holding companies in the USA. Over $896 billion in financial assets are managed in Charlotte.

Although Charlotte is rapidly-growing, one visit to the Queen City and you'll realize why it is known for being a world-class city with small town charm. You will find exciting restaurants, thriving arts and cultural attractions, excellent shopping, tree-lined Center City streets, lakes, parks and highly competitive professional sports.

Charlotte is lovingly referred to as the Queen City, a name that is owed to Queen Charlotte, wife of England's King George III. In 1762, settlers in the Carolina colony honored King George's new wife, Charlotte Sophia of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, by giving a newly formed county the name Mecklenburg. When a town was established within the county in 1768, founders named it "Charlotte Town" in an attempt to win favor.

The intersection of Trade and Tryon streets in Center City provide a link between the past and the present. The symbolic bronze sculptures at this crossroads include: a female textile worker characterizing industry, an African-American railroad worker representing transportation, a gold miner symbolizing commerce and a woman holding a baby representing the optimistic future of the city.

Charlotte is located at the crossroads of I-77 and I-85, giving travelers convenient access from all parts of the United States. The tradition, diversity, hospitality and opportunity all contribute to an outstanding quality of life.

Welcome to Charlotte!

2003 Season in Review

Charlotte Sting 2003 Recap

2003 Season Recap

The 2003 WNBA season proved to be a success in many ways for the Charlotte Sting. When Robert Johnson assumed ownership in January of the Sting and the expansion NBA franchise (later named the Bobcats), things quickly started to fall into place. Front office staff and coaches were hired, tickets and sponsorships were sold and a game plan set.

No stranger to the Sting program, Trudi Lacey was promoted from lead assistant to head coach. Bernie Bickerstaff, an NBA veteran with years of coaching and front office experience, took over as General Manager. Lacey and Bickerstaff assembled a staff and prepared for the WNBA Draft and training camp, both of which were delayed due to ongoing negotiations between the players and the League over the Collective Bargaining Agreement. Training camp finally began on May 5.

The Sting began their season by drawing a sell-out crowd and winning five out of six contests. By mid-season, the Sting were battling the Detroit Shock for first place in the Eastern Conference. The second half of the season saw the team struggle a bit on the road, but the Sting advanced to the postseason before losing to the Connecticut Sun in the first round of the Playoffs.

Throughout the year, the Sting enjoyed some fine moments within the friendly confines of Charlotte Coliseum.

- On July 24, the Sting won 67-61 to complete a 4-0 season sweep of the Detroit Shock.
- On August 9, the Sting defeated the Connecticut Sun in front of a national television audience. Dawn Staley, the smallest player on the court, scored the game-winning shot as the buzzer sounded.
- On August 20, the Sting avenged an earlier loss to Indiana by defeating the Fever by 30 points. It marks the second biggest victory in franchise history.
- On August 24, the Sting defeated the New York Liberty on Fan Appreciation Night, clinching a berth in the WNBA Playoffs for the sixth time in seven years.

Individual feats were accomplished in 2003 as well.

- Dawn Staley was voted by fans as a starting guard for the 2003 WNBA All-Star Game. Staley handed out a game-high seven assists in the game and also defeated Sue Bird of the Seattle Storm in the final round of the Skills Challenge on All-Star Friday.
- Andrea Stinson, one of two players to start every game in WNBA history, recorded her 3,000th career point on August 2, 2003. Stinson joins Lisa Leslie and Tina Thompson as the only players to have reached the milestone.
- Allison Feaster led the team in scoring with 12.4 points per game, marking the first time in franchise history that someone other than Stinson led in the scoring column. Feaster reached the 1,500 career point milestone in 2003.

ACTIVE LIST In general, each WNBA team will have 11 players on its Active List during the season. If, for any reason, a team's Active List drops below 11 during the season, the league will add a player or players to the extent needed to restore the team's Active List to 11 players.

INJURED LIST In general, each WNBA team may have up to two players on its Injured List at any time during the season. Any player on the Active List who suffers an injury that, in the judgment of a physician designated by the team, prevents her from rendering playing services may, subject to league approval, be transferred to the Injured List. The Injured List shall only exist during the regular season.

Any player placed on the Injured List and replaced on the Active List will not be restored to the Active List until at least three regular season games have been played by her team after the time she was transferred to the Injured List (unless less than three games remain in the regular season, in which case the player must remain on the Injured List for the remainder of the season).

SUSPENDED LIST Any player may be suspended by the league for: (i) breach of any of her contractual duties; (ii) failure to comply with training schedules or other league or team disciplinary rules or procedures; or (iii) failure to maintain the physical condition necessary to play skilled basketball (unless that condition is the direct result of an injury). Suspended players will not be paid during the term of their suspension and will be placed on their team's Suspended List. Teams may not suspend players.

ROSTERS For the Regular Season, each team is required to submit the names of its active players to the WNBA Basketball Operations Department no later than 5:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on May 19, 2004.

For the playoffs, each team must submit a list of its players eligible to compete in playoff games by 3:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on the day following the regular season. Because there is no Injured List for the playoffs, each playoff team must designate the 11 players eligible for the playoffs from all the regular season lists (Active, Injured and Suspended).

TRADE DEADLINE All trades are subject to the prior approval of the WNBA. Trades may take place at any time during the calendar year except during the period beginning at 8:00 p.m. (Eastern time) on August 24, 2004 (the "Trade Deadline") and ending on the day after the last game of the WNBA Finals.

CUT-DOWN DATE All player contracts that are not terminated by July 5, 2004, become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

Player Eligibility-Any woman (regardless of nationality) may sign a WNBA player contract, provided that she (i) is at least 22 years old during the calendar year of the applicable season; (ii) has completed her intercollegiate basketball eligibility; (iii) has graduated from a four-year college or university; or (iv) has played at least two seasons for another professional basketball league.

REPLACEMENT PLAYERS Upon the waiver, termination or placement on the Injured or Suspended List of a player during the season, the affected team may request that a particular player be signed by the league to replace such player.

History of the WNBA

HISTORY OF THE WNBA . . .

On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June 1997.

Since that day in 1996 there have been many firsts for the WNBA: Val Ackerman -- the first president of the WNBA; Sheryl Swoopes -- the first player signed to the WNBA; Cynthia Cooper -- the league's first Most Valuable Player; the Houston Comets -- the first WNBA Champions; Lisa Leslie -- the first WNBA player to dunk.

ON THE AIR . . .

Before a player was signed or a staff member was in place, the league announced its broadcast partnerships with NBC, ESPN and Lifetime Television. It was decided that the WNBA season would be played in the summer when the sports calendar was less crowded and the games could be televised live. During a successful inaugural season, more than 50 million viewers watched WNBA games on the three networks.

ESPN2 joined NBC and ESPN to televise WNBA games beginning in 2001 and carried live coverage of the WNBA Draft. Lifetime, which had carried games during the first four seasons, continued as a partner through 2002. Oxygen Media signed on to televise WNBA games in 2002, and ABC Sports became a new partner through a six-year agreement that extended the WNBA's national television coverage through 2008, its 12th season. Telemundo, the fastest growing Spanish language television network in the U.S., and NBA TV, the league's 24-hour television network, also joined ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and Oxygen in carrying WNBA games beginning with the 2003 season.

WNBA games and programming reached the largest global audience since the league's inception in 2003, with WNBA content broadcast to 183 countries in 26 languages. The league delivers an audience unique in sports. In-arena, gender breakdown is approximately 80-20 female-male. The TV audience is about 50-50 female-male, with a strong percentage of non-adult viewers.

THE PLAYERS AND THE TEAMS . . .

The first of the player signings was announced on October 23, 1996, with Sheryl Swoopes and Rebecca Lobo joining the league. The duo was soon followed by Lisa Leslie, Ruthie Bolton, Cynthia Cooper, Michele Timms (the first international player) and many more WNBA hopefuls.

Eight teams were announced for the league's inaugural season. The Eastern Conference consisted of the Charlotte Sting, Cleveland Rockers, Houston Comets and New York Liberty while the Western Conference was comprised of the Los Angeles Sparks, Phoenix Mercury, Sacramento Monarchs and Utah Starzz.

On April 29, 1999, the WNBA and the Women's National Basketball Players Association (WNBPA) announced the league's first collective bargaining agreement -- a first of its kind in women's team sports.

By 2000, the league had expanded to 16 teams, with the Detroit Shock and Washington Mystics joining the league in 1998, the Minnesota Lynx and Orlando Miracle in 1999, and the Indiana Fever, Miami Sol, Portland Fire and Seattle Storm in 2000.

In October 2002, the NBA Board of Governors voted to restructure the WNBA to allow individual team ownership, and to allow teams to be owned by non-NBA owners and located in non-NBA markets. Orlando, Miami, Portland and Utah elected not to assume ownership of their teams, and in December, the WNBA announced the relocation of the Utah Starzz to San Antonio, which had previously been awarded a WNBA franchise. The team would be named the Silver Stars.

On January 28, 2003, the Connecticut Sun were awarded the Orlando Miracle and became the newest WNBA franchise, with the Mohegan Tribe of Indians becoming the first non-NBA owner in league history.

On April 25, 2003, the WNBA and the WNBAPA signed its second collective bargaining agreement which gave WNBA players the first free agency rights in women's professional team sports.

On September 19, 2003, the Cleveland Cavaliers' Gund Arena Company announced that they decided they would no longer operate the Cleveland Rockers.

THE LOGOS AND THE UNIFORMS . . .

With players and teams in place, the league began its next task of creating logos and uniforms. The red, white and blue official WNBA logo -- "Logo Woman" -- was selected from about 50 different designs. After developing an extensive list of choices, the team names were selected by the league and the teams based on numerous factors, including: a tie to the NBA team name in that market, a link to a key characteristic of each city or state and/or the creation of a name fitting the current sports landscape. The uniforms also underwent several designs, and on May 21, 1997, the WNBA unveiled the team uniforms -- two shorts silhouettes and three jerseys.

History of the WNBA

On May 1, 2003, the WNBA and Reebok unveiled new uniform designs which were created to maximize performance and provide optimal comfort for the players. The jerseys are tapered to fit a woman's body and are designed to be worn untucked, providing a free range of motion for the players. The new uniforms features flat-back mesh material that incorporates Play Dry™ technology – Reebok's moisture management system that helps keep the athlete cooler, drier and more comfortable by using temperature and humidity-regulating properties in the fabric.

IT'S A BALL GAME . . .

The WNBA game consists of a 30-second clock, a 20-foot, 6-inch three-point line, two 20-minute halves, eleven-player rosters and a collegiate-regulation size ball. The WNBA's signature orange-and-oatmeal basketball by Spalding is 28.5 inches in circumference and one inch smaller than the NBA's regulation ball. In January 2003, Spalding Sports Worldwide and the WNBA announced the Spalding WNBA Infusion basketball, featuring a built-in, dual action Micro Pump®, as the new official game ball of the league beginning in the 2003 season.

MILLIONS OF FANS JOIN IN . . .

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, Calif. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks 67-57. Then on August 22, the WNBA league attendance surpassed the 1 million mark at America West Arena in Phoenix. In 2001, the WNBA welcomed its 10 millionth fan on September 1 at the STAPLES Center in Los Angeles. In 2002, more than 2.5 million fans attended WNBA games for the second straight year, as regular-season attendance averaged more than 9,000 fans for the sixth straight season. In 2003, the WNBA season attendance topped the 2 million for the fourth consecutive year.

FANS GET CONNECTED ONLINE . . .

The league website, WNBA.com, is the single most authoritative source of information for WNBA fans around the world offering late-breaking news, real-time scores, statistics, behind-the-scenes access, video highlights, the most comprehensive women's sports fantasy basketball game, WNBA Virtual GM, live chats with WNBA players and personalities, expert analysis from WNBA insiders and complete websites for all 14 WNBA teams.

On May 31, 2003 WNBA.com featured the first-ever live video webcast of a game in women's professional sports history when the Detroit Shock played the Charlotte Sting. The success of the groundbreaking webcast lead to the launch of WNBA Broadband Season Pass, a multimedia subscription service featuring 10 additional live webcasts of WNBA games, WNBA Season Audio Pass and broadband highlights and features.

Overall the popularity of WNBA.com continues to soar. During the 2003 season, WNBA.com averaged over 60,000 visits per day.

IN THE COMMUNITY . . .

For the WNBA, the focus has been three primary outreach initiatives: Read to Achieve, a year-round, league-wide initiative that promotes the value of reading and on-line literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with young children; the Breast Health Awareness program, an initiative designed to draw national attention to the issue of breast cancer and the importance of early detection; and the Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA, a support organization for recreational youth basketball leagues that connects players, parents and coaches in an effort to heighten awareness and participation in youth basketball. In 2003, the league debuted its WNBA Mind. Body. Spirit. campaign, which encompasses the Breast Health Awareness program but also focuses on nutrition, exercise and positive self-image.

WE GOT GAME . . .

Women's basketball has come a long way since its beginnings in 1892 when Senda Berenson adapted James Naismith's basketball rules for women. And with the continued growth of the WNBA, the sport is sure to go even further. For more information on the WNBA and its history, log onto WNBA.com.

WNBA In The Community

WNBA IN THE COMMUNITY

The WNBA connects with fans of all ages through extensive community outreach. As we mark the eighth season of the WNBA, our players continue to be recognized for their commitment and dedication to fans in cities across America. The WNBA has three primary community initiatives: WNBA Mind. Body. Spirit., WNBA Read to Achieve and Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA presented by Gatorade and Nike. In addition to these initiatives, the WNBA honors players who are active in their communities with the WNBA Community Assist Award presented four times a year.

WNBA In The Community

WNBA. MIND. BODY. SPIRIT.

The WNBA Mind. Body. Spirit. program is the league's primary cause-related campaign focusing on two main components – nutrition, exercise and positive self-image and breast health awareness. The platform focuses on the development and execution of events and programs that emphasize the importance of good nutrition, regular exercise and positive-self image and targets our youth fan base as well as their families.

The WNBA Breast Health Awareness program focuses on generating awareness and educating women about breast cancer in addition to raising funds for the initiative. For the second year, the WNBA is proud to have the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation as a partner and beneficiary of the program. In 2003, the WNBA and its teams raised more than $150,000 to benefit the Komen Foundation. Breast health information will be distributed to fans during in-arena awareness nights and a breast health awareness public service announcement will air on nationally televised games and in-arena.

Once again, fans will have the opportunity to log onto WNBA.com to bid on their favorite item featured in the Breast Health Awareness Auction. All proceeds from these items, including games of HORSE with WNBA stars, All-Star memorabilia and WNBA autographed items, will benefit the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

WNBA In The Community

WNBA READ TO ACHIEVE

Read to Achieve is a year-round, league-wide initiative supported by NBA, WNBA and NBDL teams that promotes the values of reading and on-line literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with young children. The program includes thousands of reading time-outs, the donation of books and literacy materials, and the creation of Reading and Learning Centers and Reading Corners throughout the world.

National and local All-Star Reading Teams have been formed consisting of current and former NBA and WNBA players and other members of the NBA and WNBA family, who promote reading efforts through in-arena events, public service announcements and school and community appearances throughout the year.

PRESENTED BY

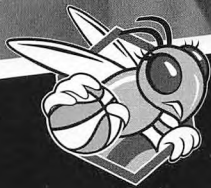

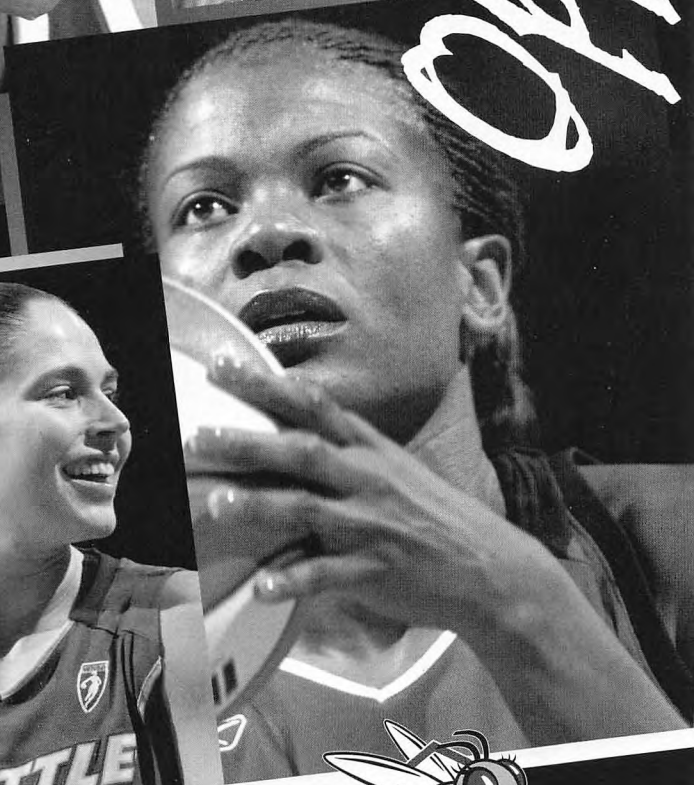

JR. NBA AND JR. WNBA PRESENTED BY GATORADE AND NIKE

The Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA, presented by Gatorade and Nike, is a support organization for recreational youth basketball leagues in the United States, Canada and abroad that connects players, parents, coaches and officials to heighten awareness and participation in youth basketball. Approximately 1,000 youth basketball leagues and about 50,000 teams (for boys and girls, ages 5-14 years-old) are 2003-2004 Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA members. Additionally, 100,000 coaches and 500,000 players and their parents receive program support and materials. WNBA players and coaches make drop-in visits and participate in special events with Jr. WNBA leagues across the country.

Charlotte Bobcats

NAME: Charlotte Bobcats

LOCATION: Charlotte, N.C.

TEAM OWNER: Robert L. Johnson

CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER: Ed Tapscott

HEAD COACH/GM: Bernie Bickerstaff (336-348, 10 NBA Seasons)

NBA EXPANSION: December 18, 2002 (30TH NBA Franchise)

TEAM COLORS: Bobcats Orange, Blue, Silver and Black

BEGIN PLAY: 2004-05 Season

2004 NBA DRAFT: 4th Overall Selection / First round (June 24, 2004)

BOBCATS BRIEF

The Charlotte Bobcats will tip-off their inaugural 2004-05 campaign this fall after Robert L. Johnson was unanimously awarded ownership of the expansion franchise by the NBA Board of Governors on December 18, 2002, returning professional basketball to the Carolinas. The team will play its inaugural season at Charlotte Coliseum before moving to a new Uptown Arena beginning with the 2005-06 NBA season.

The franchise unveiled Bobcats as the team nickname on June 11, 2003, with its new logo and color scheme of orange as the primary color accompanied by blue, silver and black. An overflow crowd of 7,000 fans assembled in the Uptown Square of Trade and Tryon streets to witness the event, featuring Johnson, Charlotte Mayor Pat McCrory and NBA Commissioner David Stern.

On January 7, 2003, Johnson hired Ed Tapscott as the organization's chief operating officer to oversee the business and basketball operations for both the Charlotte Bobcats and Charlotte Sting. Tapscott named NBA veteran Bernie Bickerstaff on October 16, 2003, to the dual role of Bobcats' general manager and head coach. With nearly 30 years of NBA experience, Bickerstaff served 10 seasons as a NBA head coach for three different teams (Seattle, Denver, Washington), was president and general manager for seven seasons and spent 12 years as an assistant coach. Bickerstaff also served as the general manager of the Sting during the 2003 season.

WHO WE PLAY

The Charlotte Bobcats will compete in the league's new Southeast Division when the team takes the court for their inaugural season. The NBA announced that the Bobcats will be joined in the division by the Atlanta Hawks, Miami Heat, Orlando Magic and Washington Wizards. The league approved the new divisional alignment plan to be implemented next season that will divide the NBA's 30 teams into six, five-team divisions. Each conference will now have a total of 15 teams with three divisions of five teams. The Bobcats will play division foes four times each (two home games / two road games), conference opponents outside of the division three or four times and opponents in the Western Conference two times each (one home game / one road game).

BUILDING THE TEAM

The Bobcats will begin assembling their inaugural season roster on Tuesday, June 22, with the Charlotte Expansion Draft. Should the NBA Finals extend to seven games, the expansion draft will take place on Wednesday, June 23. The Bobcats will receive lists from each of the 27 NBA teams not competing in the NBA Finals on June 12 and those from the two teams in the finals within two days of the conclusion of the Finals. Team lists will designate a maximum of eight protected players for that team's players under contract or restricted free agents for the 2004-05 NBA season. The unprotected players are eligible for selection by the Bobcats, who will draft a minimum of 14 players from NBA rosters.

OFF THE COURT

The Bobcats are committed to create a winning organization that makes a positive impact on the Charlotte region through a commitment to excellence both on and off the court. That means our organization will provide an emotionally engaging experience, exhibit honesty, accountability and respect, focus on fan relations, become leaders in the community and show a commitment to diversity. Our organization values youth and, in conjunction with the NBA, we will manage a year-round Read to Achieve program that incorporates a combination of special monthly reading "time-outs," book giveaways and special guest appearances by Bobcats coaches, players and front office staff members. In assisting members of our community, we are focused on assistance through literacy and education, health and fitness, arts and culture. The organization will also funnel money back into the community through the Charlotte Bobcats Charitable Fund, the organization's charitable giving arm.

Charlotte Arena

In the fall of 2005, residents of Charlotte and the surrounding areas will greet a new beacon to Uptown Charlotte. Located just steps away from a variety of office buildings, restaurants, stores and two city transit terminals, the new arena is being built by the City of Charlotte and will be the home of the NBA's Charlotte Bobcats and the WNBA's Charlotte Sting. In addition to professional basketball, the new Charlotte arena will play host to a variety of events, ranging from college basketball games and tournaments, to popular concerts and family shows.

Charlotte's new arena will offer an emotionally engaging experience for all guests. From the moment patrons approach the new arena, to their final steps out on the way home, fans will be treated to a superior level of amenities. Guests will enter the arena from a plaza either at Trade or Fifth Street. The new Charlotte Light Rail system will transport visitors to and from the arena when completed.

Once inside the building, a variety of food and beverage options will cater to every fan's taste. From traditional arena fare to fine dining, guests can select from traditional food courts and mobile kiosks to a variety of restaurants and lounges.

Ticket holder comfort will be the hallmark of the arena experience. The intimate feel of the arena will provide fans a unique feeling of closeness to the court, stage or ice while generous seating and legroom will be standard at every seat.

The building has been designed to represent the Charlotte area's diverse urban culture as well as the strength, stability and foundation of the city's heritage. Contemporary elements highlight Charlotte's focus on, and anticipation of, an exciting future for the city, team and arena. The architectural highlight of the building will be a crescent "C" shape surrounding a large portion of the arena, beginning at the entry lobby on Trade Street and sweeping around the building towards Fifth Street. The "C" will serve as a symbol of community unity and as a welcome icon for arena patrons.

SAM SMITH Radio/TV Announcer

Sam Smith enters his second season as the radio and television announcer for the Charlotte Sting. Smith, a veteran announcer with a vast knowledge of both professional and collegiate sports, also served as the back-up announcer for the Sting from 2000-2002.

Smith, a Texas native, spent thirteen seasons in the NBA before coming to Charlotte. He served 10 years as the play-by-play radio and television announcer for the San Antonio Spurs and three years in the same role for the Miami Heat. During his stints in both San Antonio and Miami, Smith also worked as the teams' Community Relations Director. In addition, Smith also spent five years as a back-up announcer for the Charlotte Hornets. He has been honored by USA Today seven times (1983-87, 90, 91) as a Top-Five NBA play-by-play announcer.

Smith's collegiate broadcasting career includes stints with Notre Dame, Arkansas, Texas Tech and Texas-El Paso. Smith enjoyed calling seven NCAA men's basketball tournament appearances, including two trips to the Final Four.

Additionally, Smith has spent 16 years as a free-lance broadcaster for ESPN. Three of those years were spent as a full-time staff member where his duties included NCAA basketball, football and baseball, Olympic volleyball and Harlem Globetrotters' basketball. He was also the lead announcer for the cable award-winning "Top Ranked Boxing."

Smith has worked 10 years as a free-lance broadcaster for FOX Sports Net and also served as the "Voice of the Charlotte Checkers" of the East Coast Hockey League for eight seasons.

Smith and his wife, Victoria, have been Charlotte residents since 1992.

C-SET

CAROLINAS SPORTS ENTERTAINMENT TELEVISION

C-SET (Carolinas Sports Entertainment Television) will become the first-ever regional sports and entertainment network to exclusively serve the states of North and South Carolina, it was announced by Robert L. Johnson on March 10, 2004. "C-SET is the next step in our goal of developing the pre-eminent sports and entertainment entity in the Carolinas," said Johnson. "The Bobcats, Sting and new Charlotte arena will serve as the cornerstone of the network's broad reach into the Carolinas. Other outlets provide very limited regional sports coverage on a daily basis and overlook many areas, such as scholastic sports and many collegiate sports events. Our network will delve deeper, be more expansive in our coverage and commit more time and resources to the stories and topics of interest to fans in the Carolinas."

C-SET, which will be based in Charlotte and will launch service in October of 2004, will be a round-the-clock, year-round sports and entertainment network. The network will feature a range of programming options from throughout the Carolinas, including the Bobcats and Sting, college and high school sports, motor sports, minor league baseball and hockey, outdoor sports, arena football, equestrian and extreme sports. The network will also carry original programming such as coverage of events from Charlotte's new uptown arena, coaches shows, weekly magazine shows and a nightly sports report that will feature a variety of coverage from throughout the Carolinas.

In addition to broadcasting 60 Bobcats games per year, all with 30-minute pregame and postgame shows, C-SET will provide the Sting with one of the most comprehensive local television packages in the WNBA with up to 15 games aired on the new network. In-depth team specials and reality programs, weekly magazine and coaches shows and other exclusive programming will round out C-SET's coverage of the two teams.

Media Information

MEDIA CREDENTIALS Single-game requests should be directed to the Sting Public Relations Department no later than noon the day before the game (Friday at noon for all Sunday and Monday games). First-time requests must be submitted in written form on company letterhead and submitted via fax to 704-333-2340 or as an email attachment to kkase@charlottesting.com. Credentials are good for admittance to the media room, dining area, locker rooms and press row. Media may not be accompanied by guests in any of the designated areas. If a request is not made, there is no guarantee access will be granted or a seat will be available. Credentials may be picked up at the press gate located near the rear entrance of Charlotte Coliseum. A seating chart is posted in the media room for each game. Credentials must be worn at all times and are non-transferable. Any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from the coliseum. Media members are asked to refrain from asking for player autographs.

PRESS PARKING/MEDIA GATE Media should enter the Coliseum from the Yorkmont Road entrance. Press Parking is located at the rear of the Coliseum. Your laminated credential also serves as a parking pass. If you have been credentialed for a single-game, your name will be on a parking list at the guard's gate.

PHOTO/VIDEO Limited space is available on each baseline for still and video photographers. There are no positions along the sidelines.

MEDIA ROOM The media room is located at the open end of the Coliseum, and is open two hours before game time. The media room is open to working members of the media only. Telephones, game notes, media guides, statistics and quotes are available in the media room. Please use common courtesy in maintaining a quiet working environment in the media room.

GAME NOTE AND STATISTICS Game notes are available in the media room two hours before each game. Statistics are distributed throughout the game and are also located in the media room. Final boxes, postgame notes and quotes from both teams are distributed as quickly as possible at the conclusion of the game.

PREGAME AND POSTGAME INTERVIEWS Per WNBA guidelines, team locker rooms are open to members of the media until one hour before the game and within 10 minutes after the game (ex.- availability from 5:30-6:00 p.m. for a 7:00 game). Coach Lacey holds her post-game press conference in the back of the media room. Visiting head coaches typically conduct their post-game interviews outside the visitor's locker room. After each home game, two Sting players must leave the locker room immediately after the game to sign autographs on the main concourse. These players will be back in the locker room after 20 minutes and available for quotes.

UPDATED INFORMATION Be sure to check out the Charlotte Sting's web site at www.charlottesting.com and WNBA fax back for up-to-date information on the Sting and all 13 WNBA teams.

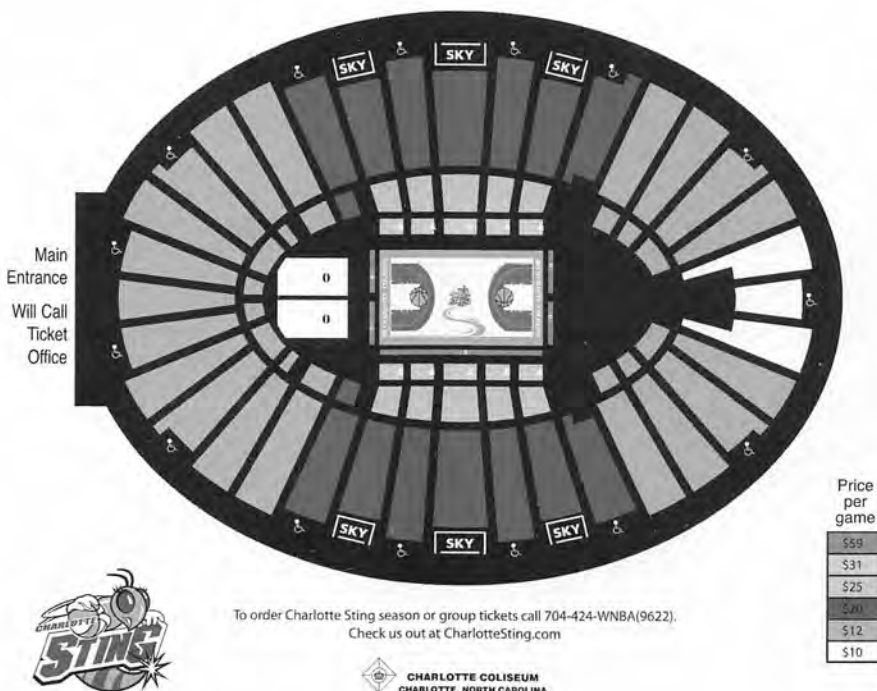

FAX SERVICE The Sting provides fax service to members of the working media following each game. Please contact a member of our staff if you would like to receive a faxed box score or stats.

PRACTICE POLICY The Charlotte Sting practice in the Bobcats Basketball Center located off I-77 at exit 88 behind Knight's Stadium. Practices are closed to the public, but open for the final 30 minutes to the media. The players and coaches are available immediately following practice for interviews. Please contact the Sting PR Department to confirm practice times and player availability. Photographers may shoot from anywhere around the court. A press room and phones are available to the media throughout practice. Day-of-game shootarounds are generally held at Charlotte Coliseum and are closed to the media until the final 15 minutes with interviews available immediately thereafter.

Born May 23, 2003 in a hard-working colony located deep within the recesses of Hive Drive, B.B. Sting has quickly become a beloved member of the Charlotte Sting family.

Standing one beellion millimeters tall and with a wingspan of one buzzillion millimeters, B.B. Sting is well-known for her unending enthusiasm, quick humor and ability to think on the fly. At no time is this more evident than when B.B. Sting is at the Charlotte Coliseum during Charlotte Sting home games. At every game B.B. Sting can be found buzzing about the arena, greeting fans, hosting birthday parties, entertaining kids and performing crazy-on-the-court antics all while cheering the Sting to victory.

During the offseason, B.B. Sting likes to stay busy by visiting various events throughout the Charlotte community. She enjoys bringing smiles to the faces of adults and children alike as she interacts with them at various charitable events, corporate functions, educational programs and local festivals. Official B.B. Sting request forms can be found on www.charlottesting.com.

A world-renowned honey maker and National Spelling Bee Champion, B.B. Sting firmly believes in being all you can be. She often encourages her Sting family to float like a butterfly, sting like a bee!

Hip-Hop Spirit Squad

Hip-Hop Spirit Squad... Featuring young men and women from the Charlotte area, the Sting Hip-Hop Spirit Squad brings energy and excitement to Sting home games through their crowd-pleasing, up-beat dance routines.

Ranging in age from 10 to 15 years old, members of the Hip-Hop Spirit Squad come from a variety of backgrounds and each brings with them their own unique dance experiences.

Choreographed by Brandii McCoy, the Hip-Hop Spirit Squad features an urban style of dance. They also perform a variety of character and theme pieces.

The 20-member squad can be seen performing at all Sting home games. They are also frequently involved with promotions and crowd interaction. To prepare for games, the Hip-Hop Spirit Squad practices two times a week. Auditions for the squad are held each spring.

Dawn Staley: USA Basketball Legend

Olympic gold medalist.
World champion.
World-class athlete.

These are titles that define a legacy, indicating an athlete has reached the pinnacle of their sport. Charlotte Sting point guard Dawn Staley can already lay claim to both these titles not just once...but twice. No stranger to Olympic competition, Staley will attempt to add a third Olympic gold to her collection as she helps guide the USA Basketball Women's Senior National Team this summer in Athens.

An intense student of the game who considers playing for the United States a great honor, Staley has been representing the United States in international competition for nearly 15 years. Her first stint on the national team came in 1989 when she represented the U.S. at the 1989 Junior World Championships. She was also selected to represent the United States at the 1991 World University Games, the 1992 R. William Jones Cup, and the 1993 World Championship Qualifying Tournament.

In 1994, Staley tasted her first success at the highest levels of international competition as she captured a bronze medal at the 1994 World Championships. She also was a member of the Goodwill Games gold medal team. In addition to the team's success, Staley also earned several individual accolades including the 1994 USA Basketball Female Player of Year and the MVP of the Goodwill Games.

Success at the Olympic level would be the next step for Staley, as she became a member of the 1995-96 USA Basketball Women's National Team. The team made history as they went a remarkable 60-0 and captured the gold medal at the 1996 Atlanta Olympics.

Following the triumph at the 1996 Olympic Games, Staley continued to help lead the United States to victories in international play including gold medals at both the 1998 and 2002 World Championships. Staley was able to add a second Olympic gold medal to her collection in 2000 as the Women's National Team defended their Olympic title in Sydney. In addition to playing for the national team, Staley also serves on the USA Basketball Women's Senior National Team Committee.

Staley was one of seven players named to the 2004 USA Basketball Senior Women's National Team on October 8, 2003. As a member of team she will have the opportunity to help the U.S. defend their Olympic gold medal this August in Athens. Good luck Dawn!

"It's always an honor to represent your country."-Dawn Staley
